GENERAL NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.

Fusionists Prepared for a Defeat.

CHICAGO, Nov 4—The Journal's Washington special says A prominent fusionist writes to the Democratic headquarters from New York that the outlook for a fusion victory success to morrow is not assuring, and that John Kelly fully realizes the strength of the anti Tammany Republican combination against his ticket and is prepared for a defeat.

A Quiet Meeting in South Carolina.

A dispatch from Sumter S C, says a Republican meeting was held there Saturday and that the Red Shirts did not interfere nor demand a division of time

A Lake Disaster.

CHICAGO, Nov 4.—The schooner John P Ross, from Chicago to Buffalo worth $10 - 000, is reported gone down on the upper coast of Michigan, with all on board namely, captain mate, cook and cook's son She was a terrific gale and is a total loss

WASHINGTON CITY

Wants to be Made a Judge.

WASHINGTON, Nov 4.—A committee of citizens called upon the president to-day and requested that Joseph H Bradley be appointed judge of the supreme court for the District of Columbia, in event of the resignation of Judge Olin which he contemplates but which he will not do unless under the law giving full pay to a judge resigning after ten years services or having attained the age of 70 years The president said that there was no vacancy and he would refer to the attorney general the question of whether the law relative to the retirement of U S judges upon full pay is applicable to members of the supreme court of this district

Blaine's Views on the Chinese Question.

WASHINGTON, Nov 4—The Star this evening publishes the following, which there is reason to believe was furnished or inspired by one of the outside agents of the Six Chinese Companies now in Washington, and as they therefore be considered a fair indication of what aid can be expected from Blaine in procuring a modification of the Burlingame treaty The mission of the Chinese embassy to this country is said to be to protect the rights of the Pekin government in any legislation is attempted to reverse the Burlingame treaty, so as to give this government some control of the matter of Chinese immigration The Chinese have an idea that upon demands made by congress upon the Pacific coast, that to bring the question of immigration solely within the control of the United States is virtually to exclude it. It is believed that if such action is based upon by congress, China will take steps to prohibit American immigration to China to the extent that Chinese immigration is prohibited in the United States. To guard against the interests of China in this respect is said to be the specific duty of Chin Lan Pin the new minister, in coming to the United States

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Nevada Stock Watered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 4—Stockholders of the Sierra Nevada held a special meeting to consider the question of watering stock $2,250 shares represented a resolution to increase the stock from one hundred thousand shares of $100 each to five hundred thousand shares of $100 each, was adopted and new stock is to be issued at the discretion of the trustees. Harry Williams, speaking for Miss, said the new stock would not probably be put on the market at present

Raining in California.

It commenced raining lightly about 9 this morning, continuing at intervals during the day, heavily overcast, wind southerly, indications of heavy rain.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 4.—Rain began to fall this afternoon.

Instantly Killed.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 4.—Andy Hegerty, aged 33, a native of Ireland, was to day instantly killed while at work in the bottom of Champion mine when a plank on top became dislodged and fell to the bottom, a distance of 300 feet, striking him with the above result.

Warrington Full Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Friday night Irish citizens held a mass meeting at Union Hall to denounce the utterances of Col. P. A. Bee, published in the Washington Post. T. F. Valley Barnes, an Irish exile, who took a prominent part in the proceedings, refused to introduce Wellock, the president of the Irishmen's party, to speak on the ground that he was an Englishman and had no business at the meeting. At the said lots yesterday Wellock denounced Baines as a Fenian, traitor and traitor to his country. To-morrow Baines will publish in the morning papers a card demanding that Wellock retract his language or name his time and place for a public meeting to settle the affair.

Counterfeiter Caught.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Wm. W. Brown, a sheep shopper, near Auburn, Placer county, was arrested by U. S. Detective Finnegan and brought to this city on a charge of counterfeiting. In his cabin were found the necessary tools and material for the manufacture of half dollars and new standard dollars. It is stated that his detection followed an attempt to pass spurious coin.

Woman Lovs for the Beautiful.

[From the Virginia (Nev.) Chronicle.]

A woman went into a barber's shop on C street a few weeks ago and wanted to know how much it would cost to dye a man's hair and moustache The price was named and she then asked the barber to get to work and follow her.

"Is the man come here?" asked the barber.

"He's dead," replied the woman, "and the undertaker said when he was passing away that Sallie, fix me up pretty for the funeral. My hair turned beautifully, but was a little dry. It won't look well to see a corpse lying 'round a coffin with an old, gray head on it, so I want him fixed up natural. He was always a beauty when he was alive dyed. I know I'd want mine if I was gray and dead."

The barber dyed the dead man's hair in the latest style of the art, and the widow remarked, when all was over, that "he was a handsome corpse ever buried on the Comstock."

Judgment for $9,000,000.

[From the San Francisco Post, Oct. 30.]

On the 30th of October, 1854, George T Knight gave a promissory note to William Scott for $4,350, payable in six months and bearing interest at three per cent. per month interest, which was to be compounded and added to the principal if not paid each month As security for the note a mortgage was given on a ranch in Santa Clara county where Knight then lived. No interest was ever paid on the note, and before its maturity Knight had left the state for Mexico where he has since had a permanent residence A few years ago, however, he returned on a visit to this city, and then suit was brought to foreclose the mortgage on the note On the principal, the amount due was $4,350, and to-day Judge Morrison rendered a fourth judgment for that amount in favor of Mrs. Walker has already returned to Mexico.

The Virginia Times appears to be in a quandary how a man can saw wood, clean house and take care of a family of seven, take care of the baby, wash and iron, answer the door and work fifteen hours a day never waste, spoil or lose anything, never want anything, have no money and be happy, smiling, well-dressed and well-fed for $1 75 a week.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

Another Insurrection.

Justice to a Swindler

BRUSSELS Nov 4—Phillipport a well known French Belgian railway contractor tried for embezzlement and breach of trust and acquitted has been sentenced to six months imprisonment for incurring large liabilities knowing his inability to meet them

Tug Boat Run Down.

NEW YORK Nov 3—A Liverpool dispatch says The steamer City of Baltimore during a fog to-day on the Mersey ran down a steam launch belonging to the Inman line Several workmen are missing

The Greek Ministry.

ATHENS Nov 4—In the chamber to day the new ministry moved as a test of confidence that the house adjourn for two weeks The motion was rejected 87 against 86 The ministers immediately resigned

French Affairs.

VERSAILLES Nov 4—The chamber of deputies has declared invalid the election of the Bonapartist, M Leroux During the debate M De Paul Cassagnac was called to order for interrupting one of the debaters and saying there was nothing in common between the Bonapartists and President MacMahon, although the latter had persecuted himself

Greece and Turkey.

ROME Nov 1—The Diritto states that France has issued a note advising that diplomatic pressure be exercised in favor of the claims of Greece on Turkey It states that Russia and Germany have already consented to mediate between Greece and the porte.

England's Useless Attempt.

BERLIN Nov 4—The Post says Eight weeks ago when the treaty of Berlin was in danger, Prince Bismarck appealed to the signatories to defend it England, who then rejected the request, now appeals to Austria and France, the supposed adversaries of Russia for the purpose of reviving the Crimean alliance Such attempts are useless Furthermore, England by forcing jealousies certainly will not succeed in preventing friendly relations between Bulgaria and Greece

Delivery of the British Ultimatum.

SIMLA, Nov. 4—The British ultimatum was placed in the hands of Fasse Mahomed Khan, an Afghanist commander at Ali Musjid on the 2d inst, and a copy at the same time was posted at Peshawur to the ameer Sir Neville a member of the vice regal council accompanied the viceroy to Lahore

The Pall Mall Gazette on Evarts' Letter.

LONDON, Nov 4—The Pall Mall Gazette, in a leading editorial article, says that the United States should choose this precise moment to publish what seems from a telegraphic summary to be a rather threatening dispatch addressed by Secretary Evarts to American Minister Welsh can scarcely be regarded as accidental All the world can see that we have on our hands just now quite as much as we can well deal with and a really friendly power with a grievance like that whilst holding to its position would refrain from casting the matter in an irritating way before the public until our affairs have assumed a more peaceful aspect At any rate this is what according to admirers of the Alabama arbitration, we might certainly have expected from America. The truth is that while the very party with which the bargain was made still holds office in the United States the first opportunity is seized to make a point against us just when it is reckoned that other difficulties may force us to give way Nothing else is to be expected and for our own part we are inclined to thank Evarts for teaching our countrymen that nations generally are no more inclined to forego their advantages over one another in the nineteenth century than in the eighteenth seventeenth, six teenth or fifteenth. Let sentimentalists blame Evarts, for he has disappointed them, not us American newspapers of all shades of political opinion, without giving a moment's consideration let us hope, to the fact that the quarrel has nothing whatever to do with an award of $5,500 000 made in favor of Canada at Halifax come forward at once with the contention that this money due and long overdue to us must not be paid until and unless this new difference is settled in the way they think right. Nine million dollars of the Alabama indemnity still remains without any reasonable claimant and here are $5 500 000 more to be retained We should have supposed that Americans could scarcely afford to recall attention to various matters relating to the Washington treaty and the manner in which its provisions have been carried out but then we too have a little sentiment about us for in truth the whole story is one of continued attempt at evasion and evasion of a somewhat shabby kind, and curiously enough, advantage was taken of the local regulations of the state of New York to avoid compliance with one of the most important stipulations of the treaty in favor of Canadian shipping

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE

Berlin has 804,000 Protestants, for whom there are but thirty four churches and 85 ministers.

The Congregationalists of Ohio report 230 churches, a decrease of one, 170 ministers, an increase of 3, 23,057 members, an increase of 338, and 978 baptisms during the year The churches raised for the various purposes, $245 813

The Reformed Church of the United States (German) reports 6 synods, 45 classes, 710 ministers 1,380 congregations, 147,788 members, 90,993 unconfirmed members and 1 237 Sunday schools, with 89 982 scholars. The benevolent contributions amount to $207,416

The National Baptist says that the Baptists in Sweden have a membership of 13,773 in 253 churches Twelve new churches were formed, and 2 479 members added last year There were 7,769 children in their Sunday schools, and about $13,000 were collected in their churches for benevolent objects

Last year the Baptist Missionary Union expended $245 000 on 33 stations with 131 missionaries and 477 churches These churches have a membership of 27,580 and received by baptism during the year 1,775 | The American Board (Congregational) expended last year $4?0 000 on 74 stations, with 171 missionaries but only 248 churches The total membership of these churches is 13 747, and the additions of last year were 1,224

A STRIKING PROPHECY

Macauley, who has so thoroughly studied the past that he was a very competent judge of current affairs, sometimes ventured to consider the future. Before our civil war he predicted a condition of affairs in this country which to-day is a very fair presentment of our actual situation He said

> As long as you have a boundless extent of fertile, unoccupied land your laboring population will be far more at ease than the laboring population of the old world but the time will come when New England will be thickly settled wages will be low and fluctuate, and sometimes many will be out of work Then your institutions will be brought to a test Hard times make the laborer discontented and turbulent and incline him to listen with eagerness to agitators who tell him that it is a monstrous iniquity for one to have a million while another cannot get a full meal When a legislature is to be chosen on one side will be a states man preaching patience respect for vested rights strict observance of public faith On the other a demagogue taunting about the tyranny of capitalists and usurers asking why anybody should be permitted to live in luxury while thousands of honest people are in want of necessaries Who will be likely to be preferred by this discontented element and what sort of a legislature will you be likely to expect? I fear it some such season of adversity spoliation will increase distress

Colonel Forney is in love with the paternal features of the French government and thinks the American republic will never fulfill its mission until it grasps the same idea

And this he adds truthfully followed to the end will remove all such horrors as hangings and lynchings from America's government and in the whole world one grand Jubilee [illegible]

Says the New Orleans Picayune Lieut John Porter did not move quick enough He was as slow as his target firing committee in getting at the enemy

DISPEL THE DELUSION

ROSEBURG Nov 4 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The financial heresies which Ben Butler and other demagogues are using to enslave votes in the Bay State have penetrated further into the American mind than is generally supposed An evil that has been adopted by any considerable portion of human society is extremely difficult to combat and eradicate In this instance where the sweeping fallacy that the government can by its own fiat cause money to be plentiful in the purses of all classes poor and rich has seized upon a community or state we have an insinuating, fascinating form of evil It is upon just such a pleasing delusion that corrupt men, who have been cast aside by an indignant people seek to reinstate themselves in power There is a chance that these ostracised men may return to public life upon this absurd delusion It is not pleasant to so reflect, but when we come to consider how Americans love (apparently) to be gulled we are prepared to be surprised at nothing If a man possesses a fluent and forcible utterance, and he advocates a novel method of relief from hard times, he is sure to have a following of some importance He appeals not to the common sense and reason of those whom he addresses this would defeat his own purpose He tells the laboring man that the general government is able to fill his pockets with money and the man at once adopts the idea, drops his hammer or trowel and joins in a crusade, as he thinks, against his supposed oppressors The theory is a pleasant one, and it is difficult to convince men that it is disastrous to their own interests and destructive to public credit abroad Instead of relieving the grievances of the poor man it would increase his poverty, by wholly destroying our trade with foreign countries If there were no other argument against the theory of fiat money the certainty with which it would destroy commercial transactions with the world is sufficient to explode the sophistry Commercial transactions are not carried on and sustained upon uncertainty There must be complete certainty and settled values, A gold dollar is supposed to have cost one dollar in labor to obtain it from the mines There is no mistake about its value for it cost one dollars worth of labor neither loses its identity the world over It is the basis of all legitimate business A great volume of paper money irredeemable, fosters the spirit of dishonest speculation This has been the experience of our own and every government that has tried the experiment It is proper to maintain only such circulation of paper as can constantly be kept at par This is an honest money But to issue an unlimited amount of paper based on fiction would grind the poorman harder than ever When the laboring man receives his money he certainly does not wish to be paid in money that may depreciate 10 per cent before he can reach a market to purchase his supplies Such has been, and such would be the case were the government to adopt the fiat money idea

It is nothing less than a fascinating delusion that is being used by demagogues to blind the masses. We must admit that there is danger to our industry to be apprehended from this course It is a danger that wears the garb of safety It may elevate men to places of power that are actuated entirely by selfish motives

The basis of future prosperity is honest money Money that is receivable abroad in all the markets of the world Men who are patriots are working to sustain an honest currency, knowing well it furnishes the true and only solution of the great problem of the age—how to revive commerce and trade Wild vagaries must be rooted out. The designs of corrupt men must be exposed A firm stand on the part of those who think and reason only can avail against those whom the demagogue may influence and deceive It is not the time to flunky the question, but it is a time for action, determined and decisive, to meet the attack upon American credit A large number of good men have been deceived These must be persuaded of their mistake, and if they cannot be persuaded the evil must be met and conquered at the polls Oregon bears the reputation of being a state sure for a sound currency Her recently elected senator, Slater, has so expressed himself It is to be hoped he will withstand all influences which may tend to unsettle his opinion and that Oregon may stand firm for money of certainty

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

Every house in Walla Walla is occupied

The average daily cut of timber at Port Gamble amounts to 160,000 feet

The weather in Yakima bears a great resemblance to that of Willamette valley.

A public spirited association in Walla Walla is getting up a city circulating library

W. H Newell, of the Walla Walla States man is very sick and his physicians say he cannot live

Mr R D Baker has been placed in full charge of the Seattle Coal Company's affairs in that city, and Mr Seaman the former manager, recalled to San Francisco

Gen Chipman and J B Montgomery are at present visiting Colfax They intend, we understand, to look at the whole upper country, with a view of constructing or running a railroad through it

A curiosity in the shape of a pig exists on the Salmon creek road in Walla Walla county It has no ears and never had any, neither an orifice where the ears are usually located It is as deaf as a post

A Walla Walla paper says To-day's stage for Colfax and Lewiston held eighteen passengers, and six or seven were left over Immigration is coming into this country at the rate of fifty per day and still there is room for more

The Walla Walla Statesman The value of our timber lands in the mountains is daily becoming more and more appreciated by our farmers and citizens in general in evidence of which many tracts of from forty acres upwards are constantly being taken up

Hon W N Randall, acting register Olympia land office under the Buchanan administration and for several years a prominent practicing attorney at Olympia, an ex senator of the Pennsylvania legislature, died at Mount Carbon, Penn on the 16th inst aged 46 years

Walla Walla Statesman A scarcity of hired girls is complained of in this city Wages are good and families pay as high as $25 and $30 per month, and cannot get help even at that price Twelve girls that came here get married in a short time, so it would pay the numerous young ladies in California and Oregon to come here and get married if not to work

Playing into the Hands of the Stalwarts

[From the New York Times.]

Whether they intend it or not, the South Carolina Democrats, who have sworn to carry every county in the state regardless of means or consequences are playing into the hands of the northern men who wail because sectionalism has been eliminated from the counsels and platforms of the Democratic party Events have facilitated the dropping of the southern question out of northern politics and it is rarely heard of now except in the mouths of bad rate talkers If it be revived the responsibility for its revival will attach to Wade Hampton's followers in South Carolina, and to their imitators in the out of the way parts of Louisiana The red shirt which symbolizes Democratic lawlessness, is the only thing that can provoke the bringing out of the "bloody shirt" from the dirty shelf on which it has been placed.

SAFE FROM CASTIGATION

LAFAYETTE Oct 31 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I sat down to write something in defense of the legislative committee Gov Thayer and his appointee at whose heels the Standard has been snarling and snapping since the legislature adjourned But when I reflect that those gentlemen need no defence, and consider the weakness of intellect and insensibility to censure or shame of the little fellow Noltner I find nothing to say Months ago a correspondent of your writing about this very matter of the printing fraud and its authors aptly described him as being without character or responsibility of any kind Recent occurrences exhibit him as possessing no more of either than an Indian The insensibility that can plume itself of having avoided the peril of perjury by violation of the law requiring him to be sworn (and there is only his worthless word that he was not sworn) and then certify to falsehood covering fraud by which the state was robbed of many thousands of dollars the taking of the state's money for no service except signing this false certificate the confessing on the witness stand—under oath this time—the falsehood, and making a merit of not being sworn when he uttered it the astounding insensibility that could sit unblanched under Mr Galloway's burning reply to this defense, that a man of honor is always under oath — and respond through the Standard that when Messrs Galloway and Stratton took and signed a report saying that we (Noltner) had certified under oath that we had measured the state printing they signed a libel and he and regard that as a triumphant answer, and a stigma upon the committee, is safe from castigation of speech

DESPAIR

Afghan morality, as expounded by one of the most popular of Afghan poets

Shouldst thou bestow but a drop of water on the thirsty
It will become an ocean between thee and the fire of hell
Shouldst thou but give a grain of corn to the hungry
Verily it will be hereafter thy provision in eternity

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

THE "ORGANS" AND THEIR "GRIND."

Perhaps it would be unjust to the Democratic party of our state to assume that its character and purposes are represented by the so-called newspapers published in its name. Most of them are devoted to an ignorant, narrow, selfish and prejudiced partisanship, and nothing else. To them "the party," as represented by the Grover-Chadwick administration, and by the men who surrounded it, is all in all. They denounce with bitterness and resent with indignation the calling to the head of public affairs a class of Democrats who have shown themselves too intelligent and independent to approve the follies of the party in past years, and too honest to allow its corrupters and corruptions to pass without denunciation. For eight years the class of Democrats who claim that all the virtue of the citizen lies in being a "regular" partisan, have given the state a notoriously corrupt administration. But the newspapers of this faction refuse to print the evidence, as if thereby they could prevent it from being blazoned before the public; and they denounce the executive of the state for attempting reform through a class of men whose intelligence and integrity stand in most observable contrast to the dishonesty and dullness of those who have long controlled the affairs of the party and brought disgrace upon it. Has the doctrine of emancipation from a slavish partisan bondage, in which unscrupulous men always find their opportunity for schemes of official misconduct, no advocate among all the Democratic papers of Oregon? It has not been our fortune to see any Democratic journal which has denounced past corruptions and thanked the governor and the legislature for the efforts made to introduce honest administration and expose those who have abused their trusts and plundered the state. The honest and independent Democrats of Oregon seem to have no paper to sustain them which claims allegiance to their party. The Democratic press of the state, with possibly one or two exceptions, is still an organized part of the Grover-Chadwick machine; and when the governor selects for official positions men who have refused allegiance to this machine because of its corruptions, the organs set upon him in chorus of censure and denunciation, intimate that he is a traitor to his party, and lament with bitterness that he is not an executive after the partisan fashion,—that is, after the fashion of the Grover-Chadwick regime. All this shows how thoroughly the late dynasty of the state "organized" the journals of the party as well as the offices. To this day the regular organs haven't found room for the reports of the legislative committees on corruptions in the state printing and the management of state lands, and probably never will. It wouldn't do to print anything which would show up the misconduct of the "regular" managers of the party, and which would vindicate Gov. Thayer in his efforts to introduce better men and better methods in the administration. So it goes. Every organ abounds with articles addressed to the governor in a mixed tone of censure and expostulation; but not one of them sees that there is any need or demand for reform. To take care of "the party" is, on their system, the first duty of the governor; and they sneer and gibe at the efforts making by the legislative committee to investigate past maladministration. All this they would keep in concealment "for the good of the party." But there are Democrats, and many of them who look at things differently; and if the party is to be rescued and placed in a position to seize the future, it will owe that fortune to its Thayers and Galloways and Thompsons.

A POET AND HIS INDIANS.

In Scribner there is a fine article on the poet Longfellow, written by R. H. Stoddard. The writer's estimate of Longfellow as a poet is not to be otherwise. The analysis of the causes which give Longfellow's poetry its popularity is executed in the main with good discrimination, but there is one statement from which we must dissent. Among the most popular of all Longfellow's works are his poems of Indian life. Mr. Stoddard thinks this is the result of their likeness to Indian character. Here is a great mistake. The poet's delineations are as unlike real Indian character as possible, and their popularity depends simply on that fact. Had he written of real Indians instead of imaginary ones there would have been no readers for even the first edition of "Hiawatha." His view of Indian character is a highly poetical conception and elaboration of the eastern idea of "the noble red man," pervaded by a certain essence of beauty which is a leading characteristic of his writings, and which seems to be the natural atmosphere of his mind. "Hiawatha" answers to Milton's comprehensive definition of poetry; it is "simple, sensuous, passionate." But Longfellow's Indians are the children of a highly refined and poetical imagination. Like Mrs. Mantalini, or some other woman among the people whom Dickens has made, they are all soul and sentiment. A book which tells about such Indians as these, particularly if that book is the work of a true poet and is new in its matter, rapid in its movement, makes a novel and happy hit in its versification, throws a kind of indescribable glamour over the supposed freedom, simplicity and purity of Indian life, and touches a vein of sympathy for the sad destiny of a doomed race, will find readers by the multitude. But suppose the poet had given us pictures of the Indian as he is. We should have had more truth than poetry. The noble red man would be transformed into a lazy, ragged and dirty beggar, crafty, thievish, revengeful and cruel; and those paragons of Indian women would appear as pitiful hags and drudges about the filthy camps, as different from the poet's picture as the flat-nosed, garlic-eating wench whom Sancho found on the high way was from the peerless beauty of his master's imagination,—Dulinea del Toboso." The popularity of "Hiawatha" is deserved, but it is altogether because of its total unlikeness to Indian character. "It is a very pretty poem," said Bentley when Pope asked an opinion of his translation of the "Iliad," then just finished, "but you mustn't call it Homer."

The Cincinnati Gazette, in a long and able article urging Republicans not to be led away by the fiat money delusion, says that the Democratic party in seeming to favor soft money ideas is insincere; that it is a hard money party and can never be anything else; that in national convention it never did and never will adopt anything but a hard money platform; that in Ohio and Indiana next year it will fall into the hard money line and fiercely deny that it ever favored anything else; that its object this year was to fool the people and catch votes to give it prestige for the presidential contest in 1880; that after resumption is a fact accomplished, and the financial question will be settled irrevocably on the basis of sound money, neither party proposing to disturb it. There is really a good deal in all this. It would be political suicide for the Democratic party to adopt the fiat idea in a national platform, and it will not do it unless the fools in its councils have an immensely preponderant majority.

Speaking of Gramercy Park, it is not true, as several journals have stated, that Gramercy is a corruption of the phrase, "God-have-mercy," or "God-a-mercy." For usage of the word see many passages in Shakespeare and the notes of Steevens and other commentators. Gramercy, they tell us, is the French phrase grand merci, that is, great thanks; and an eminent lexicographer says it was "used to express thankfulness with surprise."

Population of Washington Territory.

The following is the population of Washington territory by counties, taken by the assessors and recently received in full by the territorial auditor. Add the increase since last spring and the total would perhaps be 55,000:

TUESDAY MORNING NOVEMBER 5 1878

A CONTEMPTIBLE THIEF —A shameful rob bery was committed some time during Sunday night at the Willamette Hotel in this city by a man named Robert R Bartlette Learning that a boy who occupied a room near him had a sum of money, he stole in while the boy was asleep and took $13 in gold from his pockets At a very early hour this morning the boy became aware of his loss and informed the managers of the hotel Bartlette was immediately suspected and arrested and while the proprietor went to the city jail for an officer to take him in custody, was left in charge of a waiter and the boy whom he had robbed As soon as the proprietor had returned Bartlett assumed a lofty tone, declaring that he was greatly outraged by the charge and saying that he would go at once to the city jail and be searched and prove his innocence The boy imprudently agreed to this and together they started to visit the police headquarters Bartlette made some pretext to go by way of Fourth street, and when they reached Salmon street turned and ran away rapidly leaving his companion in the lurch Since then nothing has been seen of him He is about six feet high, is aged about 27 years, stoop shouldered, and has a stiffness of the neck which is very noticeable Officers are on his track and it will be almost impossible for him to escape.

LECTURE FRIDAY NIGHT —On next Friday evening Rev P S Knight of Salem will deliver in this city his lecture on "The North west," which he delivered at Salem before many members of the legislature and a large number of citizens from various parts of the state. The lecture has been very highly spoken of. All of Mr Knight's efforts show care and thought, and we have been assured that this one well sustains his reputation We believe it is his intention to deliver this lecture in several places in the eastern states We bespeak for him a good house next Friday night, Masonic hall has been obtained for the occasion, and the lecture will be free

CONVOCATION.—The twenty sixth annual convocation of the Protestant Episcopal church of the missionary jurisdiction of Oregon and Washington will begin on Thursday evening next, the 7th inst, with service in Trinity church, commencing at 7½, on which occasion Bishop Morris will deliver his charge Services will also be held on Friday and Saturday morning at 9 o clock, and Friday evening at 7½ Immediately after morning services, the business, proper of the convocation will be transacted in the Sunday school room adjoining the church

ALL RIGHTS —Mr James W Nelson, who has represented in this city for the past year the firm of Messrs John E Miles & Co, shipping and commission merchants, San Francisco, leaves this week for that city with the view of returning soon to continue the same business on his own account.

LAND SURVEYS —Surveyor General Tolman has appointed Deputy Surveyor Clark Smith to complete the survey of lands lying to the Corvallis and Yaquina Bay wagon road survey and some adjoining sections Mr Smith goes to Corvallis this morning to make preparations for field work

CHURCH NOTICE —The "Woman s Association of Chapman's Chapel" will meet on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the room adjoining the chapel Members are requested to be present.

THE CITY OF CHESTER —A dispatch from Astoria this morning stated that the steamer City of Chester arrived there at 4 30 o'clock and will leave for Portland this morning at daylight

THE NEXT STEAMER.—The steamship Oregon is announced to sail from San Francisco for this port on Friday next,—probably at 10 o'clock A M.

AMUSEMENTS.

DEBORAH —Mosenthal s great play of 'Deborah was rendered last evening at New Market Theater to a jammed house One seldom sees a more fashionable and cultivated audience assembled at our popular and elegant temple of Thespis Portland theater goers are not unfamiliar with the plot and incidents of this play and to attempt to give an outline would be in this connection, entirely superfluous Miss Dargon assumed the title role She more than realized the highest expectations entertained by this public and fully justified the warm encomiums lavished by the eastern press To give one a proper conception of Miss Dargon s extraordinary powers as a correct exacting and conscientious exponent of the dramatic art is a task from which we shrink with a consciousness of our inadequacy There is a stately grandeur in her method a precision of purpose a cleanness a grace and a force which disarms even the most captious critic Of what had once can sit unmoved before the subtle magnetism of her genius the impetuosity of her manner and the wondrous and melodious voice which one moment soars like the angry ocean when lashed by the tempest and in an other sobs like the echo of a broken heart. In native gifts of a high order this lady has added years of patient laborious toil Possessed of a naturally strong sweet voice she has adorned it with all the graces of elocution until it has been cultivated to the highest state of perfection Her every body glance of the eye is eloquent in its mute expression In the famous malediction scene she rose to the most exalted plane of tragic acting The fierce and bitter reproaches she hurls at her faithless lover the scorching and withering execrations, the deep curses uttered and the vehement invocation of Heaven s maledictions were terrific In the last scene when she comes back in the bitterness of woman s despair and with a broken heart her acting was invested with such a sad tenderness that it moved to tears the most obdurate nature. There is no adequately describing Miss Dargon s acting of this character it is one of her very greatest impersonations, and to be properly appreciated must be witnessed Mr Lindsay as Joseph the recreant lover did remarkably well The support was excellent and the scenic effects very appropriate and pleasing Mr Maguire certainly deserves liberal patronage for the strict faith which he has kept with this public He promised to bring first class artists to Portland and has he not kept his promises thus far? Will theater goers give him that degree of support his efforts merit Deborah again this evening Remember the curtain will rise at 8 sharp

BAPTIST CONVENTION.

OREGON CITY, Nov 4, 1878

The convention came to order on Saturday at 10 A M The entire closing session was devoted to business The report of the committee appointed to nominate officers for the mission board educational board and Sunday school board, was presented and adopted The name of the convention was changed to The Baptist Convention of the North Pacific Coast The thanks of the convention was tendered to the O S N Co and the O and C R R Co for their courtesy in returning delegates free of charge Also to the citizens of Oregon City for their kind hospitality The convention adjourned to meet in one year at Brownsville

In the afternoon the Woman s Foreign Missionary Society held its annual meeting in the Baptist church In the absence of the president of the society Mrs Prof Bailey of Eugene City Mrs Rev J C Baker of Salem was called upon to preside. Essays were read by Mrs F O McKown of Oregon City Mrs Henry Warren of McMinnville and Miss Albertine Mitchell of Portland

The report of the treasurer Mrs Rev A S Coats of Portland showed that $105 30 had been received since June last—an amount we understand much in excess of that received for the same term in previous years

In the evening Rev H Z Brown gave a Bible reading in the Baptist church He also conducted union services in the Baptist church Sunday evening On Sunday morning the pulpit of the Methodist church was occupied by Rev C W Reese of Eugene, that of the Congregational church by Rev A S Coats of Portland, and that of the Baptist church by Rev S C Price of Eugene Most of the delegates returned home on Monday morning, all highly pleased with the meetings throughout

INQUEST—VERDICT

Yesterday Coroner Cooke being notified, proceeded to hold an inquest on the body of James C. Liddy, who died suddenly Sunday at his room, near the corner of Pine and First streets A jury was summoned and a number of witnesses examined Among them, two physicians who were present when Mr Liddy died, and who held the autopsy, were examined

Dr W Saylor being sworn testified I called to see the deceased at his rooms on First street last night about 10 o'clock, found him dead I made a post mortem examination to day and found that he died from rupture of a blood vessel near the heart, caused by which in my opinion, was embolism

Dr P M Brenan testified I was called in to see Mr Liddy just as he was dying I assisted in post mortem to day, died from hemorrhage in the cavity of the chest caused by the rupture of a small blood vessel in the region of the heart My opinion is that the immediate cause of his death was from aneurism

After hearing all the evidence the jury returned the following verdict

We, the jury find that the deceased James C Liddy came to his death from hemorrhage caused by the rupture of a small blood vessel in the region of the heart J H Rominson H W Cushman H D Griffin Levi Knott, J Cooke W S Keyes

The only bill of special importance to Coos county passed at the late session of the legislature is the Laborers Lien Law This law will save much loss to the laborers in the timber, and the News does not believe that it will work a hardship on the mills, but it will prevent men who set about saloons for a week at a time waiting for the tide to turn from getting supplies, hence they'll cease to be "bosses and become laborers thus putting the business into more responsible hands, and insure pay for labor.

It is reported on Sunday at Oregon City a company of eight or ten men armed with knives and pistols met the Chinese operatives as they came from the Woolen Mills and assaulted them The Chinese resisted the assault with such weapons of defense as they could command, some of them being armed In a short time the numbers increased on both sides until some twenty whites and sixty Chinamen were engaged Several on both sides were severely hurt One Chinaman received a pistol shot which it is thought will prove fatal The riot was finally quelled by the authorities but fears are entertained of a renewal at an early day

AN OPEN LETTER TO REV J A CRUZAN

PORTLAND, Nov 4, 1878

My Friend and Brother In compliance with my own desire and the expressed wish of many of our mutual friends who have been so fortunate as to hear your course of lectures thus far upon the woman question I snatch an hour from my usual editorial duties to indite an open letter for your consideration feeling sure that Truth is a theme which never fails to give both pleasure and profit to any question a fair hearing and ever space for its publication

As your first lecture of the series which has been published in full in this valuable journal has already received the able comments of other writers I will not now allude to it further than to say that the Tilton Woodhull Claflin free lovers of whom you took occasion to speak at that time as treasonable leaders in the woman suffrage movement never had any more right to the title than Tilton had or has to the claim of leadership in the Congregational church

I regret you as a friend to woman and one who dares to say so You have gone further and said more and championed her more fearlessly than I have ever known any other minister in the city to dare to do Your lecture on Woman and the Bible was exceptionally grand It was worthy of an older brain and certainly was inspired by a kindly heart In the name of woman I thank you for it for I doubt not but it was the means of opening the eyes of many to the knowledge of the fact that God having made them free man has no right to say to them You shall not exercise the rights your freedom gives you even if they lead you through your own understanding to the ballot box

But it is of your last Sunday evening lecture that I desire to particularly speak I never saw a broader or more enduring foundation than the one you builded for woman s rights on that occasion Your ideas of the oneness of difference in sex are natural philosophical and sensible but they are not new nor do their teaching or inception originate with men I never attended a woman suffrage meeting in my life where the same philosophy was not promulgated Indeed it is the corner stone of our faith and practice. Man without woman, is like one half of a pair of shears woman without man is like the last or broken half of the same implement Home, without both man and woman is only half home And this is equally true of church and state

My brother let anybody start you on the subject of woman and the Bible or woman in the home, or in the literary religious mediæval or any professional field and you may pursue any given direction of your own or their choosing, and make a lecture that cannot be excelled But when you come to treat of woman s proper relation to the affairs of state pardon me but what you don t know about it would indeed make a large book

You say you have thought, if you were a woman, you would join the suffragists if only to rebuke man for presuming to teach her what her sphere is. I like that, for it gives every sensible woman in your congregation a splendid excuse to take you at your word Verily, you went as far in that direction last Sunday night as any man could go

The time will as surely come when you will be wise enough to understand that God knew what he was about when he gave men and women dom-inion over the earth because it was not good for man to be alone, even in dominion, as that it has already come for you to promulgate the opposite theory Your picture of politics as they are, with only men, and bad women as manipulators, inspires me with feverish haste to bring woman to the rescue, ere my own sons shall have opportunity to get their manhood smirched by such contamination Do you not see that the abominable corruption you port ay in politics is abnormal and unnatural Is it not wrong? And if wrong, is there no remedy Listen now, and hearken to my words while I declare unto you that the hideous evils of which you speak are the direct result of long continued violation of the primal law of God 'What God hath joined together let not man put asunder saith the scriptures And yet, after all your fine preaching about woman's captibility, purity and supplemental necessity to her counterpart man you make the word of God of none effect' when you counsel those who know not the scriptures to err through their traditions and because of your bad advice But I forget you, for I know this seeming abberration is but for present effect, and can be only temporary You have sowed the seed of woman s freedom in the souls of your hearers and have only raked them in with a man s rights he now in order to modify the narrow minded in your congregation, who would not be able to endure at the truth at once This harrow can not change the nature of the seeds of truth You are doing a grand and noble work, and from the depths of my woman s soul I bid you God speed You will ye carry your beautiful theory of the "oneness of difference in sex into the state, where God originally put it, as well as in the church or home Your demand for equal pay for equal work for woman will lead her higher than you have yet gone but not higher than you will yet go You will ye see woman wield a ballot and be a woman still And though the man who would wrest it from her would be a tyrant still his dominion over her will be broken His tyranny will be shorn of its strength And the oneness of difference in men and women will reform politics just as it now reforms the home circle or the church. Men who say they are in favor of woman's equality with man in everything and quote Bible to prove it, and give example to illustrate it but declare themselves opposed to the ballot in her hand which is her only enduring passport to liberty, always remind me of a class of men who were numerous and popular in certain localities during the war They declared themselves in favor of the union and demanded allegiance to it, and all that but they were opposed to the war It was in vain that you would convince them that the war was necessary They would always silence you at last by saying, Do you want your daughter to marry a nigger? Void of reasoning as was this style of argument, it was not one whit more illogical than this later cry, equally popular among the ignorant and prejudiced We don't want women to be men The sequel has proved that our daughters did not want to marry niggers and it will not prove in the near future that women do not want to be men They only ask that the joint dominion given to man and woman by the Author of the race be not longer withheld from one half of the people by human law Let us do right, my brother and leave the expediency of which you speak with God

When you were yet an infant I was unwise enough to advocate the same doctrine that you are preaching now, but long before my right hand shall have lost its cunning you too will have climbed the Pisgah of Justice and viewed the full rounded temple of Liberty as I now see it from the walls of your vision In the mean time woman s enfranchisement is hastened by your opposition for

Ever does right more uppermost
And ever is justice done

Yours truly

A Woman with a New Pair of Shoes.

When a woman has a new pair of shoes she performs altogether different from a man She never shoves her feet into them and yanks and hauls on it she is red in the face and all out of breath and then goes stamping and kicking around but pulls them on part way carefully twitches them off again to take a last look and see if she has got the right toe pulls them on again looks at them from both sides, says they are just right then take another look stops suddenly in front of a looking glass, twists around and gives them all ways exclaims Why how lovely they are looks at them square in front works her foot around so they won't hurt her quite so much takes them off, looks at the heel the toe then bottom and the inside, puts them on again walks up and down the room once or twice remarks to her better half that she will not have them at any price tilts down the mirror to see how they look turns in every possible direction and nearly dislocates her neck trying to see how they look from that way backs off steps up again, takes thirty or forty farewell looks, says they make her feet look awful big and never will do in the world puts them off and on three or four times more and asks her husband what he thinks about it and then pays no attention to what he says goes through it all again and finally says she will take them I have very simple matter indeed

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Russian government talks of exiling its criminals to the marble quarries of Finland instead of sending them to Siberia. This marble is susceptible of a high polish, and promises to be a very important article of export.

In China they behead a physician who loses a patient. If this custom could be introduced into the United States a large number of young men who are hanging around medical colleges would immediately turn their attention to agriculture.

Sir Garnet Wolseley is only 45. It was he who visited the confederate army during the war and formed the opinion that Lee was the greatest military genius since Napoleon, and that he was greater than the German generals of this generation.

It's a terrible outrage to put those Glasgow bank people into jail. Of course they didn't know they were doing anything wrong in stealing the bank's assets, and if they did why they didn't mean it. We manage these things much more mercifully in America.

Thurlow Weed, interviewed on the subject of the cipher telegrams, said he regarded the disclosures as the culmination of a long series of frauds, by means of which results of elections in New York had been changed. Mr Tilden, he thought, had simply extended the system from the state to the nation.

One of the victims of the sinking of the Princess Alice in the Thames last month was Miss Ella Hanbury, of New York. In company with her betrothed lover she was on the ill fated steamer. He was drowned, while she, being a good swimmer, kept herself afloat for nearly two hours, and was at last picked up. When she heard of the loss of her lover she became delirious, and in a few hours died.

The nature of the "gerrymandering" by which the Democratic legislature of Ohio thought it would reduce the Republican representation in the house to five or six members, is clearly shown by the majorities obtained in the new Republican districts. For instance, the majority of Garfield was 9,613, that of Townsend was 5,810, and that of Keifer was 5,010. These districts were made up so as to concentrate the Republican vote and to take out from the other districts enough Republicans to allow of Democratic success, but the "gerrymandering" business did not work up to the expectations of its authors.

Feats of Strength.

[From the New York Times.]

Marshal Saxe, the most famous general of the last century, prior to the appearance of Frederick the Great, was a man of remarkable bodily strength, of which he was far prouder than even of his well earned fame as a commander. To astonish those around him by straightening a horse shoe, or bending a bar of iron, was his greatest delight; and for a time his superiority in this respect was as unquestioned as his skill in war. At length, when a brief armistice between the French and English armies enabled the marshal to invite some of the British officers to dine with him, he entertained his guests by untwisting the links of a chain, and challenging them to do the like. The English general modestly disclaimed any pretension to rival his excellency's strength, but added that there was a Flemish blacksmith in one of the adjacent villages who might, perhaps, be capable of doing so. Saxe kindling up at the bare thought of any man presuming to be as strong as himself, eagerly inquired where this athlete was to be met with, and riding thither next morning with several of his officers, bade the smith bring out one of his best horse shoes. The man obeyed, but Saxe broke it with one wrench of his powerful hands, and treated a second and a third in like manner. "This is but poor gear of yours, my friend," said he; "it won't stand wear. However, I suppose it must be paid for." So speaking, he threw him a French crown. The smith took it between his finger and thumb, and cracked it in two like a wafer. The marshal produced a second and a third, which shared the same fate. "This is but poor money of yours, Meinherr," said the smith grinning, "it won't stand wear. However, I suppose the cracked money must pay for the broken horse shoes." The officers could not restrain their laughter, and Saxe, although somewhat mortified at having met his match at last, showed his appreciation of the smith's performance by enlisting him as farrier to the headquarters staff.

DR. BRENAN,

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Private Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES

to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to commit with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Russian government talks of exiling its criminals to the marble quarries of Finland instead of sending them to Siberia This marble is susceptible of a high polish and promises to be a very important article of export

In China they behead a physician who loses a patient If this custom could be introduced into the United States a large number of young men who are hanging around medical colleges would immediately turn their attention to agriculture

Sir Garnet Wolsely is only 45 It was he who visited the confederate army during the war and formed the opinion that Lee was the greatest military genius since Napoleon and that he was greater than the German generals of this generation

It is a terrible outrage to put those Glasgow bank people into jail Of course they didn't know they were doing anything wrong in stealing the bank's assets, and if they did why they didn't mean it We manage these things much more mercifully in America

Thurlow Weed interviewed on the subject of the cipher telegrams said he regarded the disclosures as the culmination of a long series of frauds by means of which results of elections in New York had been changed Mr Tilden he thought had simply extended the system from the state to the nation

One of the victims of the sinking of the Princess Alice in the Thames last month was Miss Ella Hanbury of New York In company with her betrothed lover she was on the ill fated steamer He was drowned while she being a good swimmer kept herself afloat for nearly two hours and was at last picked up When she heard of the loss of her lover she became delirious and in a few hours died

The nature of the gerrymandering by which the Democratic legislature of Ohio thought it would reduce the Republican representation in the house to five or six members, is clearly shown by the majorities obtained in the new Republican districts For instance the majority of Garfield was 9 613 that of Townsend was 5 810 and that of Keifer was 5 010 These districts were made up so as to concentrate the Republican vote and to take out from the other districts enough Republicans to allow of Democratic success but the "gerrymandering" business did not work up to the expectations of its authors

Feats of Strength.

[From the New York Times]

Marshal Saxe the most famous general of the last century prior to the appearance of Frederick the Great was a man of remarkable bodily strength of which he was far prouder than even of his well earned fame as a commander To astonish those around him by straightening a horse shoe or bending a bar of iron was his greatest delight and for a time his superiority in this respect was unquestioned as his skill in war At length when a brief armistice between the French and English armies enabled the marshal to invite some of the British officers to dine with him he entertained his guests by unwinding the links of a chain, and challenging them to do the like The English general modestly disclaimed any pretension to rival his excellency's strength but added that there was a Flemish blacksmith in one of the adjacent villages who might perhaps be capable of doing so Saxe kindling up at the bare thought of any man presuming to be as strong as himself eagerly inquired where this athlete was to be met with and ending thither next morning with several of his officers, bade the smith bring out one of his best horse shoes. The man obeyed, but Saxe broke it with one wrench of his powerful hands and treated a second and a third in like manner "This is but poor gear of yours my friend," said he "it won't stand wear However, I suppose it must be paid for" So speaking, he threw him a French crown The smith took it between his finger and thumb, and cracked it in two like a wafer The marshal produced a second and a third which shared the same fate "This is but poor money of yours, Meinherr," said the smith grinning, "it won't stand wear However I suppose the cracked money must pay for the broken horse shoes." The officers could not restrain their laughter and Saxe, although somewhat mortified at having met his match at last, showed his appreciation of the smith's performance by enlisting him as farrier to the headquarters staff

The new cast iron spire of the cathedral at Rouen is 492 feet in hight The old spire destroyed by fire in 1872 was 433 feet high

DANCING SCHOOL.

PROF. HALPRUNER

WILL COMMENCE THE WINTER TERM AT his Dancing Academy on First street bet Yamhill and Morrison on MONDAY EVENING Nov 4th

P. M. PENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Private Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once; and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time

to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the most Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

Persons coming to Portland requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door
